Annual Newsletter

November, 2017

Dear Family & Friends:

This year we did not sponsor any new project but used funds for completion of two small projects:

1. The good news is that the Lieba-Helena Maktab (non-formal) School has now been upgraded to a formal Primary School. A further good news is that the local government has agreed to pay the salaries of all of its four teachers. Our Pakistani partner, Friends Welfare Association (FWA), will continue to manage the school. The expanded school opened for registration on 1st September, 2016.
2. The Human Development Foundation (HDF) Lieba-Helena School in the village of Mirwas, which is close to the city of Mardan, is being expanded through acquiring an empty piece of land next door. The construction work is going on. After expansion, we expect the registration could reach more than 300 students, all girls.

As you know, our mandate is to provide educational and medical aid to poor families in South Asia, and to offer bursaries to qualified university students in financial need in Canada. We are concentrating mainly on providing educational aid to the poor in Pakistan. All our projects are in Pakistan and are in partnership with local non-governmental organizations (NGOs). The Bursary Fund at the University of British Columbia is continuing. Below we present a brief description of our programs.

IN PAKISTAN: EDUCATION

A. Permanent Primary Schools: (Program started in 2000). Typically, the local community provides the land. We pay for construction of the school building, consisting of six classrooms, as well as for furniture and equipment. This costs us a total of somewhere between $60,000 and $80,000. Our Pakistani partners manage the schools, charging low fees and covering the operating losses by donations collected locally. In these schools, which are self-sustaining after building has been completed, tuition fees are generally about $4 per month, and a teacher's salary is between $40 and $80 a month. All schools are co-educational and non-sectarian, and the teachers are almost exclusively women. We have helped establish nineteen such schools, and two are under construction. On page 3 is a table of all schools completed and under construction.

B. Temporary One-Room Primary Schools (Program started in 2001). These are one-room, one-teacher schools meant for the poorest children and for working children. Classes are held at the teacher's home or in a community building. Students do not pay any fees. We provide them with books, notebooks, and mats or benches to sit on, and also pay the teacher's salary. All schools are co-educational and non-sectarian. In the Pakistani school system, the primary school academic program is five years (60 months). In the home-school system, due to fewer holidays, the same curriculum is covered in 36-40 months. Typically, the cost of supporting one such school of 25 to 35 students is about $1,400 per year. Currently, we are sponsoring 15 such schools, with an enrollment of about 500 students, in partnership with Kawish Welfare Trust. These schools are in several villages in the district of Bahawalnagar.

C. Nobel Laureate Dr. Abdus Salam Science Scholarships for High School Girls: (Program started in 2014). We have at present 16 girls in Grades 9 and 10 receiving these scholarships valued at $12 per month.

D. Fee Concessions: (Program started in 2009). This is an ongoing program for primary school children, which offers fee-concessions, formerly called Scholarships, valued at $4 per month per student. Currently, 200 such fee-concessions are being offered in three schools, all in Karachi.

IN PAKISTAN: SKILLS TRAINING

We have helped establish two small vocational schools in which young girls and women learn traditional needlecraft and sewing. This training helps the invisible household economy of poor families, and can potentially generate income from outside work.

1. Nani Maria Vocational School, Lahore (2000). In this two-room school, situated in Kot Lakhpat, Lahore, the enrollment has varied from 20 to 40 students. Al-Khidmat Foundation manages this school.

2. Dr. Marilyn Mohan Vocational School, Pind Dadan Khan (2007). This one-room vocational school is located in Khewra, district Jhelum, situated within a girls high school.

IN PAKISTAN: HEALTH

1. Amina Jabbar Trust Hospital, Lahore (1998). This, our first project, is an outpatient hospital, the size of a single-family detached bungalow in Vancouver. It is managed by Al-Khidmat Foundation. About 80 patients per day receive a medical examination and 3 days of medication at a nominal cost of 25 cents per patient, about one-sixth the cost of private care.

2. Medical Examination of Primary School Children (Program started in 2005). At a cost of only $1 per child per year, about 1,000 children in primary schools in Bahawalnagar are examined and their health reports sent to their parents.

IN CANADA: BURSARY

The Maria-Helena Bursary Fund, University of British Columbia (2000). The bursaries are awarded annually from the income generated from the capital of this fund. The university selects the recipients.

Thank you all for your continued support and prayers. Let us know if you have any questions.
